

THE Boston- AND COUNTRY

Containing the freshest Advices,

Gazette, JOURNAL

Foreign and Domestic.

MONDAY, September 6, 1773.

Nichols, Esq. & Gill.

A Friend to the Community, addressing the great provincial or rather continental GAZETTE in your last Gazette, has the following Expressions. Now we behold you reduced to the poor despicable Subterfuge of "stepping the Mouths of your expectant Spectators, Rimes and Kermis, by conferring on them Commissions of the Peace!" refusing the Nomination of those who are not venal enough to support you in your infamous Purposes! "declaring that Gentlemen who do not support you, for and against, and not expect Honors or a Salary, must be considered as enemies!"

These Reflections, so soon after the Publication of a List of Justices created on the 11th of this Month, lead the Reader to fix a Stigma there; and the reader, because, from the Day of Bernard's reforming Plan, it has been notoriously just so to fix it. But, in the present Case, tho' the Motives of this List may be full as base as those of other Nominations latterly, and tho' the List is mostly with a highly predominating Black; yet I venture to assure the Public that there is to be found in it One, at least, a true Lover of his Country and its Charter Rights; in Principles and Fortune superior to a Tyrant's Artifices or Bribery: a worthy Defendant in an honorable Family of Patriots. One who ought to have stood high in the intended Prosecution of Non-Importers. He having been influenced by public View to push Home Manufactures to very great Perfection.

And, here by the Way, let me ask our Country Gentlemen, whether it is totally improbable that the bloody-minded LARVA WARRIOR would not have spent all his Malice in pointing out the Wretched Non-Importers without relieving a second Remedy for the active Home Manufacture!!

And now, to return.—It is evident, from the Character of this DUNSTON Esquire, that Politicians are not to consult the enrolled Names only, for the Motives of the late Creation; but, after separating those who may have risen upon the Stile of personal Obsequiousness, Recourse is to be had to the List of Counsellors also. Herein we shall find one, whose VIRGILIAN is to be rewarded; another, whose TOMAS, roused at being ridiculed to Whately to please Bernard, is to be appealed; another, whose Voice, too tenderly dissenting in Favor of the Culprits, upon a late Occasion, is to be silenced in future, if possible, in the Cause of his Country, by the uncommon Distribution of three Parchments together, as Compliments to his intimate Friend, his Son, and his Son in Law. JUST PUBLISHED, and to be sold by JOHN BOYLE, in Marlborough-Street,
A SECOND TREATISE
CHURCH-GOVERNMENT.
In Three PARTS:

I. A Continuation of the NARRATIVE of the late Troubles and Transactions in the CHURCH in Bolton: With some Remarks on M. Goff's NARRATIVE.
II. A Reply to Mr. Adams's Answer to my former Treatise: in which is shown the absurdity of his Notion that COUNCILS are more like y to do Justice than the PEOPLE; as also of his Notion that Judgment and Advice both mean the same thing; as also of his Notion of the negative Power.
III. Drawing from the WORD of GOD the sole Right People have to call and dismiss their Officers. And shewing, that for Ministers to be Moderators of Church Meetings and Negatives, is absurd and incompatible. With an APPENDIX, being some Remarks on a Pamphlet said to be, offered to the CHURCHES by the CONVENTION of MINISTERS.
To which is added—The TESTIMONIES of many Persons in Bolton, to certain FACTS in Answer of Contradiction to Mr. Goff's NARRATIVE.
By a NEIGHBOUR.

On a PAMPHLET lately published, intitled, The RESULT of an ecclesiastical Council convened at BOLTON, August 3, 1773, &c.

ONE who was present at the time of said transactions thinks himself in duty bound to make the following Testimony and Remarks, concerning what a Number of Gentlemen have drawn up and signed as a Council, who were convened in Bolton, August 3, 1773.

I. They say "they convened by virtue of letters" mislabeled signed Thomas Goff, Pastor, Amos Meriam, "J. J. Johnson, and James Houghton, Committee of the Church." When, if they knew any thing tolerable of the State of Affairs in the church, and how things are conducted in it, they must know, that the major part of the church never had any consultation to stand any church meeting for the purpose, of sending out these letters mislabeled: but that it was diligently kept a secret from the major part of the church, nor did those gentlemen themselves admit the major part of the church to the sight, or hearing of one of their letters mislabeled, during the whole time of their sitting; altho' the church made it a public objection, against having any concern with them, because they had no knowledge of their letters mislabeled; and upon the strictest enquiry I cannot find that the major part of the church have by any means been made party to their letters mislabeled to this day. Neither did said gentlemen deny, desire or propose to the major part of the church, to have any hearing of them, concerning the state of the church and town, or the matters of difficulty therein subsisting. All which I am well assured of, not only by my being present, and having concern with the church during said time, but also by express enquiry now. And yet they do not scruple very highly to blame and condemn the major part of the church and town thus unheard, as in their said Refusal all may see who read it; which to me very much resembles sending their neighbors secretly, which in my apprehension very much militates against, and discords with the many public professions I heard them make of impartiality and hearty concern for the peace and welfare of the whole town, one part as well as the other. It is worthy also in this place to observe, that they themselves in their 7th page (i. y. it was absolutely necessary for them to have a hearing of the merits of the cause between both parties in order to advise, &c. With what face they could then draw up such a Refusal as they did, not only advising, but judging & condemning as they do, I shall leave to the Publick to determine.

II. I observe the very high encomiums they have raised upon Mr. Goff and his adherents, and especially their good humour while under the observation of those gentlemen.

On which I can't but observe, that Mr. Goff and his adherents must have been very morose and perverse indeed, to have shown any roughness or temper to those gentlemen, who come and heard just their story, fought for no other, had none to confute or invalidate any thing they said, but all by way of commendation of them, and saying all was well done upon their side. However, I suppose I can with better advantage than those gentlemen, testify concerning the temper of the people of this town to their controversy, having been present at several public hearings of both parties face to face and I very readily testify, that it has appeared with decency and moderation on both sides; which gives me reason to conclude that they are so thoroughly fixed in their different sentiments, that as they view things at present, there is no possibility of a union, neither have those gentlemen as I find by their Refusal, endeavored in the least to persuade those who were for them to give up their sentiment, and fall in with the major party; but on the contrary, to stand it out to the utmost in their present sentiment.

I hope therefore they will not think amiss of the business at Council for not advising their constituents to give up their sentiment to the minor party, especially when they have been so candid and catholic, and have not disavoured to stigmatise the opposite party with hard names, as those gentlemen have the body of this church and town.

III. Those gentlemen in their Refusal speak of some proposals made by Mr. Goff and his adherents, which they say were rejected as accounts of some supposed informations. I remember that there were at that time writings exhibited by Mr. Goff, he called proposals, some not signed by any body, and all not directed so as they could be filed up on, on which account they were rejected. Those they call supposed informations as if the proposals were well enough authenticated, but only that they were rejected thru a capricious temper, or at best a mere whimsey. It appears wonderful to me when these gentlemen had observed such material defects, but supposed informations, and when they could without any scruple, consider themselves as sent for by the church; when by far the major part had no notice of it, seeing they could so easily get over all these things on their own side. It is wonderful with what face they could say any thing about deficiencies, a minor part, &c. In Mr. Goff's Refusal, which I suppose the public are well enough acquainted with, I suppose the public are well enough acquainted with the formalities of every brother being notified to attend the meeting, and Mr. Goff, of what they proposed, a vote declared unanimous in the morning and no objection, some others that were not at the meeting, soon after signed a concurrence which made a general majority of all the members.

IV. Those gentlemen appear in their Refusal to make much of the proposals made by Mr. Goff and his adherents, to the others for an accommodation, and highly to applaud them; at the same time to set at naught the proposals on the other side, the most essential one of which they have omitted, that made during their sitting. And that which they pretended, in their 4th, is essentially false. For they say, that "Mr. Walley's adherents proposed to Mr. Goff and his adherents that "Mr. Goff draw out of the treasury," &c. Whereas Mr. Walley's adherents never meant, neither did they give Mr. Goff leave to draw one farthing out of the treasury. But that his adherents might draw their proportion of money out of the treasury, &c. The substance of the other I shall here insert, and is as follows, viz. "That upon condition Mr. Goff will "put an end to all demands upon the town, and his adherents attend upon the preaching of Mr. Walley, three or four sabbaths, and then give their consent to the votes of the church and town respecting his call, or make no further usefulness; that they, viz. "Mr. Goff's adherents, shall draw out of the treasury 70l. L. M. And provided any brother of this church cannot so comfortably attend special ordinances with us, they may attend in any sister church without offence to us; or if they shall hereafter choose to sit up public worship by themselves, they shall be discharged from paying ministerial taxes with us." Said 70l. was said to be considerably more than the proportion Mr. Goff's adherents had paid, or been assessed towards the support of the gospel since they have been so divided; and even more than to pay Mr. Goff his contract to that time. But it is in vain to dwell upon proposals for a union; it is plain that Mr. Goff, his adherents or his council, don't mean to make or accept any proposals, but such as shall destroy and bring to naught what the church and town have done, in dismissing Mr. Goff; the major part of the church & town don't mean to make or accept any proposals, that will militate against their own acts or principles, in that respect. And therefore it is impossible there should be one so long as they retain their sentiments. And I expect that all who hold that the power is in council, that they are above the church, and that a church has no power to do any thing but what a council says they may. I expect that all who are of that sentiment will condemn Bolton people, their proposals and all. But those who hold to that liberty in churches with which Christ has made them free, will think their proposals to Mr. Goff's adherents, fair and generous.

V. I observe in their 6th page, a very assuming, insulting piece, they say they sent to the other council, in which, among many other gross insults and futile things, they undertake to remonstrate against Mr. Walley's infidelity, which at that time had no existence, nor any vote in that council for that purpose. Which paper, by their own account in the 7th page, it appears the council never thought worth taking any notice of.

VI. I observe the abundant satisfaction they express in their postscript, at the dissolution of the other council; in which they seem to be so elevated, that they have misrepresented the reason of their dissolution.

These Gentlemen pretend, that it was because the council were so sensible of the difficulties; whereas the reason of their dissolving was because they were equally divided in their vote about going forward. However, I trust their joy upon that account will subside when they come to hear of the infidelity.

As to what relates to matters of fact in the foregoing remarks, I appeal to the members of the Church's Council convened at that time; some of whom I have no doubt will ever long be called to authenticate at least some of the above truths, by oath.

AT an Ecclesiastical Council convened at Bolton, August 3, 1773, by the desire of the Church in said Bolton; in order to proceed to the installment of the Rev. Mr. Walley into the pastoral office among them.

Present the Church in Upton, the ad Church in Salford, the Church in Dingley, by their Pastors and Delegates—Pastors present, the Rev. Eliza Fish, the Rev. Ebenezer Chaplin, the Rev. Isaac Stone, Delegates present, James Bradish, Ephraim Whitney and James Flagg, Amos Singletary, Ebenezer Peirce and Abel Chaff, Caleb Hill, Jeremiah Whiting and Caleb Whiting—Chase the Rev. Eliza Fish Moderator, and the Rev. Ebenezer Chaplin Scribe.

After solemn prayer to the Father of Lights for divine direction; considering much has been said about the conduct of the Church and People in this case, respecting the dissolution of their late Pastor, we came into the following Resolutions.

It appears to us, agreeable to the mind of God revealed in his word, for persons in all important cases to seek council or advice, that they may proceed with the greater safety. Pro. 11. 14. In the multitude of counselors there is safety, and especially for churches to advise one another, &c. &c.

It appears to us that although it is their sole and expedient for persons in important cases to seek advice, yet such advice does not ought not to be blind, unreserved or unqualified the acts or oaths of the people, that they should be different from the advice given. But it appears to us, that God having given his people in choosing for themselves, and especially in choosing and removing their own officers, as appears by their sufferings grown, in the sitting up of things and other officers, and also the revolutions recorded in the word; therefore, that it is the mind of God, that people should have and exercise this power, without any foreign power to control or invalidate their acts in that respect. The four appears very explicitly to be exercised by the church of Christ, under the conduct of the apostles; and by their direction given and approved by Christ, in what is said to the church by Ephesus, Rev. 2. 1. compare with the 7th verse. And thus hath tried them which by they are Apostles, and are not, and hath found them true, ver. 7. He that hath an ear to hear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. The same also appears to us to be according to Congregational principles and constitution, agreed upon by our Fore-fathers.

It appears to us that the church in this place have above two years since, agreeable to the above principles of expediency, and power, dismissed their late pastor, having first notified every brother to attend; and when met, by calm proposals to their said pastor, and moderate proceedings by adjustments from time to time; so that he having thus had some considerable time previous notice of their design, was dismissed. And it does not appear that any church has attempted to convince them of any thing wrong, or constitutionally manifested any complaint or aggrievance against them for any of their conduct; notwithstanding so much and so publicly has been said about it, for more than two years. But on the contrary, we find that a council of seven churches convened in this place last June, after having a large hearing of Mr. Goff and the church, manifested charity with this church, and a readiness to commune with them, as appears by their Refusal. And we also finding that the church and people here have regularly elected the Rev. Mr. John Walley to be their pastor, and upon examination finding him duly qualified; therefore vote to proceed to the installment of the said Mr. Walley into the pastoral office in this place.

Noted that the Rev. Mr. Fish give the charge, and the Rev. Mr. Chaplin the right hand of fellowship.

GENTLEMEN;
GIVE me leave to address you once more on the subject of my intended publication, and to inform you that though my manuscript copy has met with the greatest approbation, I have not yet been favoured with a sufficient number of subscribers to enable me to carry it into immediate execution, without running too great a hazard.
I must therefore request the favour of those gentlemen who have done me the honour of subscribing, that they would be pleased to indulge me with a few months longer, in which time give me leave to request the other well-wishes to mathematical learning among the public, that they would be pleased to bestow their generous assistance to the publication of so useful an undertaking, in which they will greatly oblige their Most Obedient Humble Servant,
S. GALE.

RECOMMENDATIONS of the above work.
I have perused several parts of Mr. Gale's manuscript copy of the work he proposes to publish by subscription on the subject of surveying, and do believe, it will be a very useful work to most of the surveyors in North-America, as well as others who are desirous of making themselves acquainted with both the theory and practical part of that art.

New-York, Feb. 26th, 1773.

I have perused such parts of Mr. Gale's manuscript copy, as relates to practical surveying in America, (which has been mentioned in the former authors) and I find it to be well handled, & worthy of the encouragement of the public.
ALEXANDER GOLDEN.
Surveyor-General of the Colony of New-York.
HAVING perused all the most material parts of Mr.
Gale's manuscript copy of the complete surveyor, I beg leave to recommend it as a work, in my opinion, well deserving the encouragement of the public.

March 9th, 1773. Philadelphia, March 10th, 1773.

I have perused several parts of Samuel Gale's manuscript copy of the complete surveyor, and am fully convinced, that the rules therein laid down in practical surveying, and correctly calculating the areas of such surveys when made, especially that part relating to surveying our rough lands in America, may be of great advantage to those concerned in surveying, as well as others; and therefore think it deserves public encouragement.
JOHN LUKENS.
Surveyor-General of Pennsylvania.

I have perused Mr. Gale's complete surveyor, and am much pleased with his manner of treating the subject.
The publishing of it will be a general advantage, as it contains every thing necessary for a complete surveyor; his rules are extremely good, and his demonstrations clear and better adapted to the understanding of mankind, than any I have ever met with.
